

Community Open House

Thursday 11 November 4pm-7pm

Central School of Ballet is one of the world's leading professional dance training organisations, training young people for careers in dance and performance. The school has recently relocated to brand new bespoke premises in Southwark and we are opening our doors to the Countess of Wessex Studios for the local community. Join us to see behind the scenes and find out how you can become involved through joining a dance class or watching a performance. No need to book in advance.
